

WORM WEATHER

An illustration of two children running through a rainstorm. The child on the left is wearing a yellow hooded raincoat and blue pants, running towards the right. The child on the right is wearing a blue hooded raincoat over a yellow shirt and brown pants, running towards the left. They are both splashing water. The background is a grey sky with white diagonal lines representing rain. Several yellow leaves are scattered around. The title 'WORM WEATHER' is written in large, white, hand-drawn letters at the top. A small yellow bird is perched on the letter 'O' in 'WORM'. The bottom of the image shows a dark brown ground with pink and yellow worms.

by Jean Taft

illustrated by Matt Hunt