KATE DICAMILLO

The background of the cover is a textured, yellowish-green wall. On the left, there are two small, square windows with white frames, each emitting a warm, yellow light. To the right, a larger, arched doorway is framed by a dark, classical-style archway. Inside the doorway, a wooden door is visible, and a small light fixture hangs from the ceiling. A rabbit, dressed in a bright red suit with a white collar and cuffs, is walking away from the viewer towards the doorway. The rabbit is positioned in the lower-left quadrant of the cover. The overall atmosphere is warm and mysterious.
