READING TOGETHER GUIDE FOR AMERICAN MAHJONG FOR BABIES

Learn how to share Mahjong for babies with your little one"

IDEAS TO TRY

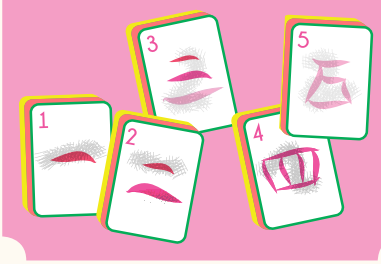

COUNTING TOGETHER

There are lots of things to spot and count as you read this book. For example, on the page introducing the suits, count from one to nine together. Point to each number as you count, then try counting backwards.

1 2 3

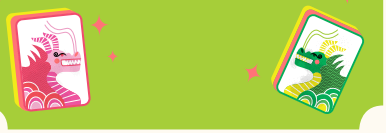

FINDING COLORS

Throughout the book, pause and see how many colors you can spot. Which color catches your child's eye first?

ROAR LIKE A DRAGON

When you meet different symbols and characters in the book, imagine and act out the different noises they might make. Did you roar together when you met the dragon? Funny sounds and silly voices make shared reading memorable.

POINT AND NAME

Point to the different things on the page—the bird, dice, tiles, racks—and name them as you do. Naming everyday objects helps build vocabulary naturally.

READ IT AGAIN

Children love repetition and familiar books become favorite books with each reread helping to strengthen literacy and understanding skills.

EVERY PAGE IS AN INVITATION TO TALK, LAUGH, POINT, COUNT, WONDER, AND PLAY TOGETHER.