

Host a Grandparents Day Storytime!

We all know who's REALLY in charge when Grandma or Grandpa babysits!

BEFORE STARTING THE STORY, ask kids “Is anyone here today with their grandma or grandpa?” Then ask grown-ups “Is anyone here with their grandchild?” Follow that up by asking “How many grandparents wish a super fun babysitter would come to their house?” and wink at the grandparents in the audience to raise their hands. Then say, “Well, you’re in luck! Grandchildren are excellent babysitters!” Tell your audience that the books you’re about to read will help kids make sure their grandparents always have fun when Mom and Dad head out for the day.

AS YOU READ, engage children with questions about the story, such as “What’s your grandma or grandpa’s favorite snack?” or “What is your favorite game to play when you’re babysitting Grandma or Grandpa?”

END THE STORYTIME by asking for a few audience members to say what they’re most looking forward to when they babysit Grandma or Grandpa.
